

Agent Fifi (aka Agent Nimmo) makes her way over to Silvertown. With no idea who Herr Schach is or what his dummy mission might be she hunts for the location, a baseball match in the Royal Victoria Gardens.

She sits in the park watching what seems to be an impromptu gathering of locals of locals. She watches the players carefully, such a mix of ages and abilities. She watches the people that look out of place. Suddenly from nowhere the ball is kicked her way. She stops it with her foot. In the split second before she kicks it back she notices some signs and symbols across the baseball.

Crack the code! Fifi has started.....
